WHEN ROSES FALL.

When roses fall,
When night-winds sigh,
And over all
Dark shadows fly,
As on the beach
The billows beat
Which from my reach
Have born you, sweet.

I sit and mourn
What here befall,
And dreams return
Your last farewell
As thus you said:

"Love do not grieve!"

My soul instead
To you I leave,

"In woe and pain
Although we part,
Here shall remain
My constant heart."

If spirits may
Pass over space,
The twilight gray
Shall show my face.

"And when you hear
The murmuring sea,
Oh! deem it dear,
A voice from me.

At close of day,
When starlings shine
Oh! think that they
Are eyes of mine."

Alas! the wave
I gaze here on
Seems like a grave,
The haunt of fear:

Its hollow roar,
Unlike your tone,
Swells on the shore
A bitter moan.

No stars on high
Shine like your eyes;

For gloomily
The night-winds sighs,

Black clouds fly fast

Across the lee—

Their shadows vast

Hide hope from me."

Kind words are the brightest flowers of earth's existence; they make a very paradise of the humblest home that the world can show. Use them and especially around the fireside circle. They are jewels beyond price the more precious to heal the wounded heart, and make the weighed down spirit happier than all the other blessings the world can give.

Grafting should be done only when the swelling shoulder of the buds shows that vegetation is started. Gions may be cut and preserved in moss or sawdust.

"David," said Joshua, "I am pleased with Mr. Harcourt; but two things stand between him and my daughter."

"And pray what are they?" inquired David a moment averting his head that he might bite his lip with vexation.

"The first obstacle is his age," replied Joshua. "He is twelve years Mabel's senior."

"A poor obstacle, truly," said David. "Though older than Mabel, he is skilled in all the phrases of life, and he will be better able to 'protect her' than a younger man. Now, let me hear your second reason."

"I have already selected a husband for my daughter."

Had the lightning shot from the cloudless blue above them, David Grey could not have been more astonished. He averted his head that his brother might not see the hateful expression of his face. He bit his brother's lip till the blood appeared but ere he turned his face again to Joshua he wiped it away.

"You have selected a husband for Mabel," he said, "and who is the fortunate man?"

"Mr. James Griswold, of Canton."

"Since you have found a son-in-law Joshua, I will not urge the claims of Mr. Harcourt," David Grey said, becoming calm. "When do you propose to have the wedding?"

"Oh! I had not thought of that," answered Joshua. "But I will not forget your legal friend when the invitations are sent out."

"Do not, I entreat you. But let us return to the house."

"Yes, I want to consult Mr. Harcourt in regard to some legal matters."

Thus years passed away, and when Mabel reached her eighteenth year, Joshua began to look about him for a suitable husband for her.

There were a great many young men in the vicinity of Clover Dell Farm, whose eyes were fixed upon the lovely girl; Joshua Grey only smiled when he saw them trying to make themselves attractive to his eyes. He wanted no man for his son-in-law who approached the dandy. At last, he made the acquaintance of James Griswold, the young junior partner of a dry goods firm in Canton a village situated a few miles from his house. He was so pleased with the young merchant, that he invited him to Clover Dell, and introduced him to his daughter.

After the young man's departure, Joshua Grey perceived that he had left an impression on Mabel, and he endeavored to stamp it indelibly there, by speaking well of the merchant.

Four days later David Grey and lawyer departed from Clover Dell, and James Griswold arrived before they were out of sight. The young merchant was kindly received, and Joshua noticed a crimson flush overspread his daughter's cheeks as she took James' hand. He left them alone in the parlor, and strolled into the garden.

Several months flew by, and one day Joshua Grey received a letter from London. Opening it, he found that it was from "Kneathly & Hatfield, Solicitors, of Tryon Row." They informed him that the death of his uncle had placed ten thousand pounds into their hands for him. The urbane solicitors requested his presence at their office.

Ten thousand pounds! Joshua Grey was astonished; but at once began to make preparations for his departure to England. He summoned David to Clover Dell, and after giving him a thousand instructions, and bidding Mabel farewell, left for New York. Upon the wharf he encountered Mr. Harcourt, the lawyer, who said that he was assistant counsel on an important trial then pending in the courts.

Joshua Grey believed him, gave him his hand, and sailed for England.

"Go, Joshua Grey," murmured Dudley Harcourt, as the owner of Clover Dell disappeared below deck.

"Go to your death. If I chose, I could have warned you to watch a man with dark eyes, for he has sworn to throw you overboard some dark night."

The night of the two men's arrival

Joshua Grey wondered why David brought that man to Clover Dell.

Perhaps his brother thought that he wanted to make his last will and testament, and had accommodately brought one of his legal friends along.

The following morning, Mr. Grey discovered that his brother had other ends in view.

"Joshua," said David, as they stood in the garden, "what do you think of my friend Harcourt?"

"I think him a gentleman, having a great knowledge of law. If he applies himself to the profession, he will, doubtless, make his mark."

"He is rapidly becoming known," returned David Grey. "He has a practice now of twelve thousand a year."

"I should say that he deserves it," said Joshua.

"But, brother, how would Harcourt suit you for a son-in-law?"

Joshua Grey looked at his brother and smiled.

"I am in earnest, Joshua," replied David, to the smile. "Mr. Harcourt would make Mabel a noble husband."

She is old enough to enter into a life partnership with some estimable gentleman, and such a one is my friend. I brought him here that he might become acquainted with Mabel."

To Whom it May Concern.

For the information of the public, we publish the following order of the Hon. E. W. McKinstry, Judge of the Twelfth District Court:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
County of San Francisco.

Messrs. Scofield & Warren, proprietors of the "SAN MATEO COUNTY GAZETTE," a weekly newspaper published at Redwood City, by the County of San Mateo, having filed the written application and bond with good and sufficient securities, which I have this day approved, according to the second section of an "Act entitled An Act to protect Litigants," passed by the Legislature of this State on the 29th day of March A. D. 1870. Now therefore, I do hereby designate said newspaper, the "SAN MATEO COUNTY GAZETTE," as the medium in which all Judicial and legal advertising for the County of San Mateo shall be published according to the provisions of said Act.

E. W. MCKINSTRY,
Judge of 12th Judicial district.

Dated at San Francisco this 15th day of April 1870.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—The poetry received last week from a correspondent at Pescadero, falls far short of our ideas of genuine poetry, and it was not thought advisable to publish it. W. W. San Francisco.—Your communication in regard to late trial for man-slaughter in this county, was received a day or two ago through the very questionable generosity of the Young Mens Christian Association, who say that they found the letter in the Post Office without a postage stamp and so they put on a stamp and forwarded it. No doubt your animadversions upon the trial referred to, are just and true, but the trouble is, they are not Susceptible of proof, and we see no good that would result from a publication of the article.

There is no doubt that religious prejudices too often enter into the jury box and into the ballot box, but we know of no special and practical remedy for the evil.

AN IGNOMINOUS FIZZLE.—We alluded last week to the gang of men who were pretending to work for the City of San Francisco in shoveling sand at the old Yerba Buena Cemetery on Market street. These men were a portion of a crowd of some two thousand who marched to the Mayor's Office a few days previous and represented themselves as being starving for the want of bread. Several hundred of them were set to work at 2,00 per day and after lounging around leaning on their shovels and smoking their "dudens" for a day and a half, they struck for higher wages, got up a regular riot, the result of which was, the authorities ordered the work stopped and all hands were discharged. Then came the task of paying them off, and as nobody had kept any account of who had worked and who hadn't, every man claimed to have worked one and a half days and so the paymaster kept paying every one that came until some $5,000 or $6,000 had been paid out. Good judges, say that half a dozen Chinamen would do more work in one day, than all the work done for that $6,000.

MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE.—This excellent paper from the far northwest has failed to put in an appearance at this office for several weeks past. What's the matter Bro. Green! Are the mails all blocked up with snow, or has your new steam boiler frozen up and stopped the machine? Please report!

HAIL AND THUNDER.—The Sacramento Union of last Wednesday, says that on the day previous, a severe rain and hail storm, accompanied with heavy thunder, prevailed at that city which lasted nearly half an hour. It also extended to Marysville and Chico.

"MASONIC MIRROR."—This monthly, for April, has been received. It is a valuable publication for the masonic Fraternity, is edited by Amasa W. Bishop, and published in San Francisco.

The Government is about to issue a million dollars of fifty-cent fractional currency.

Steps are being taken in New York to enable families of limited means to emigrate to the West to do so free of expense.

Lopez has again turned up in Paraguay, and won an important victory, which it is thought will indefinitely prolong the war.

Rumors of a Fenian raid upon the Canadian frontier are still circulated.

The California and Oregon Railroad is being fenced from London to Chico.

An earthquake shock was experienced at Prescott, Arizona. March 11th.

In San Fran., March 26th.—Prince Arthur will visit California in the latter part of April and then return.

Marriages in violation of laws.

The practice has prevailed to a considerable extent for the last few years in this State, of persons procuring a marriage license in one county and then going into another county and have the marriage solemnized. All such marriages are illegal and without any authority of law, and Ministers of the Gospel or magistrates, who perform the marriage ceremony upon the supposed authority of a license issued in a county other than where the marriage is to be performed, subject themselves to the same penalties as they would by marrying persons without any license at all, for the reason, that under the provisions of the statute, the county clerk is only authorized to issue marriage licenses authorizing any Clergyman, Judge or Justice of the Peace within his own county to solemnize the marriage of the persons named in such license. There is no misunderstanding what the law is upon this point, by any one who will take the trouble to examine it, and we think it would be a good idea for Clergyman to inform themselves a little more in regard to their jurisdiction in matrimonial matters. Quite a number of these illegal marriage certificates are on record in the Recorder's Office in this county, and it is not improbable that the same state of affairs exist in every County in the State. It has been customary for parties from all parts of the state, to procure a license in their own County and then go to San Francisco in order that they may be married in the most appropriate style—the result of which is the marriage is illegal and contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. The law makes it the imperative duty of the party performing the marriage ceremony, to file the certificate, together with the license, with the County Recorder of the County in which the marriage is performed, within thirty days after the marriage. There are but few clergymen or Magistrates who pay any attention whatever to this provision of the Statute. If a man can procure a license from the Clerk of one County and then go into any other County in the State and be married by some person who is a total stranger to the parties, and then be allowed to take his own certificate and license and do what he pleases with it, how easy it would be practice imposition and leave it so that the marriage could not be proved. How would the person performing the ceremony know whether the parties presenting themselves for marriage were really the persons named in the license, if they were total strangers and hailing from some remote part of the State. The fact is, the law is right as it stands, and was designed to secure a reliable record of all marriages in this State, and it is time that some little attention was paid to it.

For the information of those concerned in this question, we refer them to the statutes of 1862 page 450 where the law will be found which is so plain, that the wayfaring man, "tho' a fool, need not err therein." Whether county clerks have been in the habit of issuing licenses expressly authorizing clergymen and Magistrates in other counties to solemnize a marriage, we are not advised.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED.—The School House in the Laguna District was totally consumed by fire on last Monday morning between four and five o'clock, together with all of its contents—including the books belonging to the scholars. We learn from E. A. Boyden, the teacher, that the fire was discovered by Mr. Casey who resides but a short distance from the school house, about half past four o'clock in the morning, and that he went immediately to the school house and that when he arrived, he found the front of the building in flames, but under such headway that it was impossible to do anything towards extinguishing the fire or to get anything out of the house. The fire was unquestionably the work of an incendiary as there had been no school kept for two weeks but it was to have commenced on last Monday morning.

A man who would willfully burn a schoolhouse, would steal the "Lord's Supper," or pennies from the eyes of his grandmothers corpse. It is hoped that the scamp will be detected and properly punished.

THE CIRCUS COMING.—Gregory & Orrin's great trans-Atlantic circus, and Mlle Gertrude's Troupe of trained animals, are advertised to perform in Redwood City on next Friday the 22nd, and at San Mateo on next Saturday, the 23rd inst. Mlle Gertrude Gregory is said to be the most astonishing Lady Gymnast in the World, but perhaps the most amusing and wonderful feature in the whole exhibition, is the performances of the trained French Poodles, Monkey's Goats and Ponies. No one should fail to see this novel and wonderful exhibition.

WHO WANTS ONE.—Anybody who wishes to buy a sewing machine—either a Wheeler & Wilson, Florence, Grover & Baker, or the Howe Machine, can procure one by applying at the GAZETTE office; for $10 less than the same machine can be purchased for in San Francisco.

It is reported an Indian war has broken out on Stony Creek, in Coosa county, and it is feared several families have been massacred.

Supervisors Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the Board was held on last Tuesday. The chairman being absent, Supervisor McMahon was elected chairman pro tem. The matter of changing boundary line between Pulgas and San Mateo townships, was laid over until the next meeting of the Board. S. R. Gilbert, M. L. Brittain and J. S. Colgrove were appointed viewers on the change of road from Belmont to Byrnes' Store.

A. S. Easton, P. McMahon, F. E. Pierce, were appointed viewers on the road applied for by P. Feeney in the First Township, and that they meet on Saturday the 16th for that purpose.

In the matter of the application for the erection of a calaboose at San Mateo, it was indefinitely postponed.

The following bills were allowed J. E. Skidmore, holding inquest on dead Chinaman at Belmont $12 00; E. Waltermire, burial of same, 30,00;

The Board ordered that notice be published, in the GAZETTE of the contract with H. Henry for the care of the indigent sick of the county.

Joseph Smith, presented a claim against the county for $30,000, damages for injury to his son George in having his leg broken by reason of the public highway being out of repair. The claim was unanimously rejected.

Upon the application of the County Assessor, it was ordered that he be allowed one deputy at $3,00 per day.

The Clerk was ordered to procure from the Secretary of State, certified copies of all local laws relating to this county, and that the chairman of the board and County Auditor cause them and other existing local laws to be compiled and printed in pamphlet form at an expense not exceeding $150.

The District Attorney was authorized to procure stationary for his office at a cost of $40.

The Board adjourned to meet Thursday April 21st.

LAND FOR SALE.—By reference to our new advertisement, it will be seen that Messrs Soto and De La Torre are offering for sale some of the finest lands in Salinas valley. They will sell on easy terms and in quantities to suit the wants and means of purchasers. No more agreeable locations can be had in Monterey County, than are to be found on the lands offered for sale by these gentlemen, especially in the vicinity of that beautiful sheet of water the Laguna Grande, Estevan de La Torre and J. M. Soto, deserve hearty commendation for this step toward breaking up the ruinous Policy of holding intact the immense grants of land existing in our valley. Business sagacity and public spirit are alike manifest in their action, and we sincerely hope that others may be induced to follow their example. Castroville Argus.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED.—The School House in the Laguna District was totally consumed by fire on last Monday morning between four and five o'clock, together with all of its contents—including the books belonging to the scholars. We learn from E. A. A man who would willfully burn a schoolhouse, would steal the "Lord's Supper," or pennies from the eyes of his grandmothers corpse. It is hoped that the scamp will be detected and properly punished.

NOTHING TO HINDER.—John Nugent former publisher of the San Francisco Herald, got a bill through both branches of the Legislature, authorizing him to sue the city and county of San Francisco for damages on account of the people refusing to patronize the Herald, but Governor Haight pocketed the bill. Now, for the information of Mr. Nugent, we volunteer the information to him, that there is no law at present upon the Statute Books of this State, which prohibits him from suing the county of San Francisco or any other county in the State, if he wishes to do so, sail in John!

LOOK UP.—If any one wants to know where to get a good sign painted, they had better look up at the new sign on the GAZETTE office, fronting A street, and to save them the trouble of coming up into the office to enquire who painted it, we will say that it is the work of G. F. Perkins, of Redwood City. He executes all kinds of painting in the best manner at reasonable rates and at short notice.

It is reported an Indian war has broken out on Stony Creek, in Coosa county, and it is feared several families have been massacred.

To LAND SEEKERS.

We publish an article in another column, from the San Bernardino Guardian, upon the resources of that county, which may be of interest to parties in search of cheap land. San Bernardino is one of the most sparsely populated counties in the State, owing to its remoteness from the great business centers of the State. But since the immense addition to the population and business of San Diego, together with the prospects of the early completion of the Southern Pacific Railroad, San Bernardino is beginning to attract immigration. In fertility of soil, we presume it has no superior in the State, and at no very distant day it will be one of the most desirable localities in Southern California.

MENLO PARK HOTEL.—We were not a little surprised, in visiting Menlo Park a few days since, to see what a fine Hotel Dick Kuck has erected and furnished at that place. The grounds belonging to the Hotel are quite extensive, and have been laid out quite artistically, and in fact quite expensively. The garden is well filled with flowers and shrubbery and stately oaks afford an abundance of cool shade in Summer. Extensive additions are being made to the building, and when completed, the Menlo Park Hotel will accommodate a large number of guests. The store formerly occupying a portion of the lower floor, has been removed to Kuck's new store on the County Road and the room that was used for the store, is being converted into a billiard and bar room.

BUSTED.—The Downieville Messenger says the Truckee Tribune has gone the way of all flesh, and as a matter of course, leaving many subscribers in the lurch. When will people learn that it is the best policy to patronize established newspapers—newspapers of character and responsibility. It seems that some people delight in being "bill'd" and we imagine it will be so long as the world shall stand. Viva la humbug.

CATARINE, Deafness, Diseases of the eye, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Lung Disease.—Published with success by Dr. Aborn, 22 Kearny street, San Francisco, after ordinary modes of treatment have failed. J. E. Bradley & Rulofson, 420 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

General Debility is Nature's Appeal for Help.—Thousands of persons, without any specific ailment, are the victims of languor and listlessness. The unthinking are apt to confound this species of inertia, with laziness; whereas it usually arises from a want of organic energy, for which the subjects of it are no more responsible than the near-sighted are for their defective vision. Such persons, although they may be free from pain, are as truly invalids, and as much in need of medical aid, as if they were tormented with the pangs of acute disease. They require a tonic and alterative, that will rouse and regulate their torpid organizations. In cases of this kind, the right way to proceed is to build up the system with a right diet, and to give the body a full opportunity to exercise. Said applicants further represent that said lands on which said lands proposed to be sold, are situated on the line between the towns of San Mateo and San Francisco, and that the boundaries of the two counties run through the lands in question, and that the lands are of equal value in both counties. WANTED.—About ten acres of land in San Mateo county, with good house and abundance of water, located near railroad station, and suitable for a poultry ranch. Prefer having a place for sale, or for a purchase, by addressing G. W. BROWN, POSTOFFICE BOX 123, SAN FRANCISCO, giving price and full particulars.

STRAYED OR STOLEN.—From the Seventeen-Mile House, Milpitas, on or about Saturday April 1st, a large bay American horse, with no brands. Any person giving the whereabouts or will return him to 17th House or to E. Ball's livery stable in Redwood City; will be suitably rewarded.

BOLD ROBBERY.—As Chas. N. Fox and Edward Bennett alias "Jonathan," of this town, were on their way to San Francisco on last Sunday night, they were confronted by a couple of highwaymen while ascending the hill just beyond the Six-mile house on the San Bruno turnpike, and compelled to get out of the buggy, hold up their hands and submit to the indignity of having their pockets rifled of their contents. The scamps took $171.50 in coin from Mr. Fox, and $12.00 from Bennett. They also took Fox's gold watch, but noticing his wife's portrait upon the dial, and some other marks about it, they remarked that it was probably a present to him which he probably prized, they would not be so ungenerously as to keep it, and handed it back to the owner. Conscientious cusses! the desperadoes wore masks, and although it was a bright moonlight night, of course they could not be recognized. One of the party held a cocked revolver pointed at Fox and Jonathan while the other proceeded to go through their pockets, after which they were ordered to get into the buggy and skedaddle—which they did without waiting to be told the second time.

I. O. O. F.—OFFICIAL VISIT.—Grand Sire, E. D. Farnsworth, of Tennessee, together with Grand Master J. B. Harmon and Grand Secretary, T. Rodgers Johnson, honored Bay View Lodge of this place with a visit on last Wednesday evening.

After the close of the Lodge, which was about 11 o'clock, the members, with the distinguished visitors preceded by the Redwood City Cornet Band, marched to Welborn's Restaurant where a sumptuous banquet had been prepared for the occasion. About one hundred guests sat down to the bounteously spread tables, and although ample justice was done to the tempting viands, there was sufficient left remaining to feed a small army. After the stomachs were satisfied, then came speeches by the Grand Sire, Grand Master, and others, Past Grand Master, C. N. Fox acting as master of ceremonies, and at about half past 12 the party dispersed, well pleased with the evenings exercises. No spirituous, malt liquors, wine or cider, were admitted to the festive board. Several visitors from Ocean Lodge at Spanishtown were present by special invitation, and there was the largest number of members of Bay View Lodge present ever got together since the institution of the Lodge.

A GOOD TIME.—The promenade concert and ball given by the Redwood City Cornet Band on Friday night, was generally acknowledged to be one of the most pleasant and agreeable gatherings that has come off in this town for a long time. There was a goodly number present, the music was splendid, and the supper at the American House was ditto.

WOMAN SUFFRAGETTE.—Mrs. Laura De Force Gordou, repeated her oft delivered speech on Woman's Rights, at the Court House in this town on last Thursday evening, to an audience of about fifty persons.

The thing don't flourish well in the adobe soil peculiar to this region.

DRUGS.—Dr. Gillespie is again in Redwood City, where he will remain up to, and including next Monday. Those in want of dentists services, will find him at the American House.

COMING.—The Fenian Brotherhood of San Francisco and the whole surrounding country, are to hold their grand annual picnic at the People's Park, Redwood City, on Sunday, May 8th.

CONCERT.—A promenade concert of vocal and instrumental music is to be given at Byrnes' Warehouse in San Mateo, for the benefit of the Episcopal Church, on next Tuesday evening, April 19th. Tickets fifty cents.

LOOK OUT.—A notice from the Assessor of Internal Revenue, will be found in this issue of the GAZETTE, and all persons liable to be assessed, will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

S. O. T.—The following officers of Mountain Dell Division No. 74 Sons of Temperance, were installed on April 2nd, Mrs. C. E. Sherwood, W. P.; G. H. Williams, W. A.; D. P. Coltonbaugh, R. S.; W. Danktree, A. R. S.; A. S. Dennis, F. S.; E. P. Sherwood, T., C. B. Mills, C; Lizzie Eets, A. C.; W. W. Stuart, I. S.; Frank Belknap, O. S.

MAY BALL.—The Redwood City Fire Company are to have their 9th Annual Ball at the Gymnasium hall, in this town, on the sixth of next month.

DANCE.—Our Mayfield neighbors are to have a "social dance" at Rich's hall on Monday evening, May 2d.

A commercial panic is raging in Buenos Ayres.

JUST IN TIME.—While gazing out of the window of our studio, puzzling our brains for an item on last Thursday afternoon at half past three o'clock we spied a horse and buggy coming tearing up. A street at a fearful rate of speed. In the buggy were two men, and the horse was letting his heels fly through the dashboard with wonderful rapidity to the great terror of the occupants and when nearly opposite the Prior corner, one of the men tumbled out of the buggy—leaving the other on to go it alone. Just before reaching the corner of Second street, the horse turned out of the road so that the wheel struck the plank curbing which sent the buggy on its beam ends throwing the remaining occupant head first to the ground. The horse soon cleared himself from the buggy and charged down second street in which direction he continued until well down on the soft marsh, when he came to a halt and looked back to see if anything was the matter. The parties thrown from the buggy, were Dr. Hamilton and another gentleman whose name we were unable to learn, both of Mayfield. The team belonged to Hamilton, and although the horses is not much of a runner, but when it comes to kicking, he is "some." Strange to say, neither of the gentlemen were seriously hurt, but the last one was considerably jarred by the fall.

REFRESHING SHOWERS.—A lovely rain fell at this place on last Monday night, which is presumed to be about the last of the rainy season. Although it was not particularly needed in this vicinity, still, it has done no harm and probably has done some good. The clerk of the weather has been unusually accommodating to the laboring class during the past winter, by so regulating the rain that most of it has fallen on nights and Sundays,

CLING TO THOSE WHO CLING TO YOU.

There are many friends of summer; who are kind when flowers bloom; but when winter chills the blossoms they depart with the perfume. On the broad highway of action, Friends of worth are far and few; so when one has proved his friendship, Cling to him who clings to you. Do not harshly judge your neighbor, do not deem life untrue, if he make no great pretensions— Deeds are great words are few, those who stand the first best, Firm as when the skies are bright, will be friends who life enthrone, Cling to those who cling to you.

Green you see a worthy brother, Buffering the stormy main; Lend a helping hand fraternal, till he reaches the shore again, Don't desert the old and tried friend, When misfortune comes in view, For he needs friendship's comforts; Cling to those who cling to you.

The Industrial Resources of San Bernardino County.

There is no county in the State that possesses greater or more varied resources for building up a prosperous community than the county of San Bernardino. With every variety of climate, from the almost torrid heat of its vast plains, the delightful climate of its valley and table lands, to the frigid line of snow-capped mountains, it offers facilities for settlement to the most fastidious.

With a soil of the most diversified character, the cultivator of the cereals, orchardist, vine-grower or grazier can here find land to suit his wants. With an area of upwards of 16,000 miles square, or 2,500,000 acres, he can find a home here untroubled by land grants or the bogus claims of land speculators. We have a valley—that of the San Bernardino—miles in extent, that needs no irrigation the year round. Experience has demonstrated that it is only necessary to sink wells, artesian or otherwise, to find ever-flowing streams sufficient for purposes of irrigation.

In the mountains north of our town we have an inexhaustable supply of pine, black and white oak, mahogany and cedar, and a road is now in course of erection to facilitate its transportation to market. In the vicinity of the town of San Bernardino we have an excellent clay for brick, and a splendid article of sand-stone is found in inexhaustable quantities but a short distance from the county seat. Our soil yields abundant crops of corn, wheat, barley, rye, oats, buckwheat, potatoes, sweet potatoes, all kinds of garden vegetables, tobacco of a superior quality, sorghum, the castor-oil bean, and no doubt the ramie plant would grow here to perfection. In fruits, for which our soil and climate is unequalled, we raise oranges, lemons, limes, walnuts, almonds, figs, apples, apricots, pears, peaches, plums, citrons, quinces, nectarines, olives, strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, gooseberries, currants, and last, though not least, grapes of many varieties. In fact, the Cucamongo vineyard is justly celebrated as producing the finest wine in the State.

A company, a short time ago, purchased land near this vineyard for the purpose of engaging in the cultivation of the grape, having become convinced that this county offers rare and superior facilities for the cultivation. The lands bordering on the Santa Ana, near Agua Mansa and Jurupa, offer peculiar facilities for the cultivation of the mulberry tree. No county in the State can compare with this for grazing purposes. Our grasses continue green and nutritious after extreme droughts have compelled the neighboring counties to remove their stock elsewhere to keep them from starving. Our alfalfa is cut six or seven times a year, produced from twenty to thirty tons to the acre. A large portion of our surplus products are sent to Arizona, where our farmers are sure of finding a remunerative market. The road to that Territory passes through this county, and it is here where most of the freight destined to the land of gold and Apaches is engaged by our hardy teamsters. Our country is now nearly out of debt, and our finances are placed upon a cash basis. We have churches of almost every denomination, and our public schools are in a prosperous condition under the efficient supervision of the County Superintendent, Mr. H. C. Brooke, a gentleman well qualified for the position. We have an amount of mineral wealth of which we may justly be proud. Already gold in paying quantities has been found in many places in the county; quartz mills are in operation with success in our mountains; silver, copper, lead, cinnabar, plumbeous, etc., have been discovered, and we have tin in quantities sufficient to supply the world, in different mines, from the Temescal to the Mojave desert, more than forty miles apart, showing the mineral belt to be extensive in its character. In short, San Bernardino offers facilities to the immigrant unsurpassed by any county in the State—a home, in fact, that needs but a few years of labor to ensure a prosperity seldom to be found in the old and new States at the East. To the industrious father of a family we earnestly say, examine our county before settling elsewhere, and we are confident this county will be your abiding place and home, and in after years you will thank us for the advice we proffer.—San Bernardino Guardian.

"SHE WORKS FOR A LIVING."—Command us to the girl of whom it is sincerely said, "she works for a living." In her we are always sure of a true woman—a real lady. True, we are not prepared to see a mincing step, a haughty lip, a fashionable dress, or a splendid string of nonsense about balls and young men, or the new and the next party—no, no; but we are prepared to hear the coming of a woman; a neat dress, a mild brow, and to witness movements that would not disgrace an angel.

You who are looking for wives and companions, turn from the fashions, haughty girls, and select one of those who work for a living, and never—our word for it—will you repeat your choice.

You want a substantial friend, and not a hale eat—a counsellor, and not a simpleton. You may not be able to carry a piano into your house but you can buy a sewing machine or a set of knitting needles. If you cannot buy a ticket for the ball, you can visit some afflicted neighbor.

Be careful, then, when you look for companions, and when you choose we know many a foolish man who, instead of selecting an industrious and prudent woman for a wife, took one from a fashionable stock, and is now lamenting his folly in dust and ashes. He ran into the fire with his eyes wide open, and who but himself is to blame for it?

The time was when ladies visited and took work with them. This is the reason why we had such excellent mothers. How singular would a gay woman look in a fashionable circle, darning her father's stocking? Would not her companions laugh at her? And yet such a woman would be a prize to somebody. Blessed is the man who chooses for his wife one from the despised girls "who work for a living."

TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF SMALL-POX AMONG THE INDIANS.—Gen. Sully has written to Commissioner Parker with reference to the ravages of the small-pox among the Gros Ventres Indians at Fort Browning Reservation, Montana Territory. Since last September, when the disease broke out, 741 deaths have occurred, leaving only about 1,200 of this nation alive. Everything that could be done to alleviate their sufferings was done. Upon telegraphic instructions from Commissioner Parker, medical supplies were sent to them, and an experienced physician employed, through whose exertions a stop was put to the ravages of the disease. Gen. Sully says what makes the calamity still more to be deplored is that of all the Indians in Montana these are the most friendly to the whites, and among the Indians most disposed to accept civilization. At one time the deaths at the Agency were so rapid that the few men there could not dig graves fast enough, and they had to fill up the ice house near the fort with the dead, and then cover them up.

Poison Oak.—A table spoonful of olive oil, taken internally before an eruption appears on the surface, is a complete antidote for poison oak.

The writer of this first saw the above in the Pacific about a year ago and being exceedingly sensitive to oak, he gave the oil a fair trial, perhaps twenty times, and has found it nearly perfect in its results when taken before the eruption appears on the surface. Any antidote is useless after the irritation commences.

The Remedy.—Dissolve one ounce gum shellac in six ounces of sulphuric ether, corked tightly in a bottle. Bathe the surface where the irritation or eruption appears with cold water and wipe dry; then apply the above solution. The ether will evaporate in one minute, leaving an elastic coating of gum completely impervious to the air. In about two minutes the most distressing case of oak poison can be relieved entirely of all unpleasant sensations. As the coating cracks, or peels off, apply more of the solution, and in twenty-four hours the case of indescribable suffering is completely healed. Try it yourself.

This remedy was accidentally discovered by the writer, and hence, until now, unknown to the world at large.—W. A. Tenny.

THE INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES OF SAN MATEO COUNTY.

There are many friends of summer,

who are kind when flowers bloom;

but when winter chills the blossoms

they depart with the perfume.

On the broad highway of action,

Friends of worth are far and few;

so when one has proved his friendship,

Cling to him who clings to you.

Do not harshly judge your neighbor,

do not deem life untrue,

if he make no great pretensions—

Deeds are great words are few,

those who stand the first best,

Firm as when the skies are bright,

Will be friends who life enthrone,

Cling to those who cling to you.

GREEN YOU SEE A WORTHY BROTHER,

BUFFERING THE STORMY MAIN;

LEND A HELPING HAND FRATERNAL,

TILL HE REACHES THE SHORE AGAIN,

DON'T DESERT THE OLD AND TRIED FRIEND,

WHEN MISFORTUNE COMES IN VIEW,

FOR HE NEEDS FRIENDSHIP'S COMFORTS;

CLING TO THOSE WHO CLING TO YOU.
